

SHILLIG CASE WAS DISMISSED

Larceny Proceeding Against Piano Agent Dropped for Lack of Evidence

JUDGE WHALLON ON BENCH

Shillig's Friend Pleased With the Verdict Which Cleared
Him of the Charge

O. J. Shillig, the local piano agent, who was arrested several days ago and subsequently released on bail, was tried in the police court at Indianapolis today on a charge of grand larceny. Mr. Shillig was arrested at the instigation of one O. H. Hancock, a brother of Mrs. R. F. Timmerman, who claimed that Shillig had in his possession diamonds and monies amounting to several hundred dollars, the property of his sister which were given to Shillig with the understanding that he was to return them and which he failed to do on demand. The case was heard before Judge Whallon this morning. Both Mr. Hancock and Mrs. Timmerman were on the stand. Deputy Prosecutor Oren Hack appearing for the State, and Charles Pettijohn, of Indianapolis, and Megee & Kipinger of this city, appearing for the defendant. Shillig was not called to the stand. After hearing the testimony, Judge Whallon dismissed the case for the lack of evidence, and Shillig was released.

His many friends here will receive this verdict with much pleasure, as the young man is well liked and was always considered a straight forward business man, and held the confidence of all with whom he had business transactions. He resides with his wife on East Third street.

RUSHVILLE KNIGHT FELL TO THE STREET

John Kirkpatrick Suffered an Ugly Gash and Rendered Unconscious in a Fall

Says the Indianapolis Star: While returning to the city from the Knights of Pythias camp, near Riverside Park, yesterday evening, John Kirkpatrick of Lodge No. 35, Rushville, Ind., fell from a street car at Missouri and Washington streets and suffered a severe bruise above his left eye. The car was slowing up as it approached the railroad crossing at Missouri street, and Kirkpatrick, who was on the running board, attempted to alight before it came to a stop. He was thrown to the ground with force enough to inflict an ugly wound in his forehead, and when picked up by Conductor Belch and Serg. DeRosette of the police he was unconscious. In the City Dispensary ambulance in the charge of Dr. Wagner, Kirkpatrick was taken to the City Hospital, where his injury was attended.

SAME OLD STORY IS HEARD AGAIN

City Officials Cannot Get the People to Cut Weeds But Will Use Force in Future

It's the same old story, the war on weeds is on. Year after year the city marshal has been ordering property owners to clean up vacant lots, but as usual the request is unheeded, but the city is going to adopt another plan to get rid of the weeds this year. City Marshal Price stated this morning that he is going to notify all property owners to cut weeds one more time, and if the weeds are not cut by the end of the week, he is going to himself to do the work. The city is not going to have the weeds free, however, for the city will be presented with the bill, and if the bill is not paid, the city will have to pay it.

TO CONDEMN PLANS

Such Will Probably be Action of Railroad Commission

The Indianapolis Star says: Action is being considered by the commission with reference to the C. H. & D. depot to be erected at Rushville. The C. H. & D. has filed plans for this depot, but the plans call only for a remodeling of the present building and are not in accord with the commission's order. No action has as yet been taken by the commission in this case, but it will likely condemn the plans and file suit in court to compel the enforcement of its order.

LOOKING FOR HELP MATES

The Rush County Fair is Given a Boost by the Uniform
Rank

Ivy Company No. 35 of Rushville, says today's Indianapolis Star, is the advance agent of the Rush county fair. Every member of the company has come to camp pledged to "boom" Rush county for all the county is worth. Capt. George H. Caldwell is captain of the company. Twenty-four men are in camp.

A sign on one of the Rushville tent makes the following announcement: "The only tent that contains four single men of marriageable age."

Another placard announces that "two old maids" and two "old bachelors" keep house in the quarters. According to the card the "old maids" are A. E. Fleehart and I. C. Kinnear. The bachelors are S. L. Trabue and G. V. Hunt.

The serious charge of "spinsterhood" is brought against Fleehart and Kinnear because it was found they had packed their trunks in a scrupulously neat and careful manner. They do not deny the impeachment.

Ivy Company comes from James E. Watson's town, but Mr. Watson is not a member. Years ago when Watson lived in Winchester he joined a company of uniformed knights and became the captain. He still retains his membership at Winchester.

LOCAL OPERATORS ARE ASKED TO WORK

Offer Triple Wages For Men Who Will Work Fourteen Hours
Each Day

That the officials of the Western Union Telegraph company are preparing to fight the strikers is shown in the fact that they are securing the services of every retired telegrapher in the country who wishes to work and are offering their new men triple pay. Letters have been received by local men offering them good positions in this line of work.

The letter which is being sent out by the Western Union is as follows: "During the strike of our employees, we will pay the following compensation: Every operator will be rated according to his ability and skill. We will pay him this amount as a bonus, and in addition will pay at the rate of salary a full day for every seven hours worked. This means that every operator who will work 14 hours per day will be paid for three days service, one as a bonus and the other two for seven hours service each. If they want employment during the strike upon these conditions please advise me. As far as I am able to control the situation, every operator who is employed and his services prove satisfactory, will be retained in the service after the strike is over. Operators working during the strike in addition to the payment referred to above, will be furnished free board and transportation."

WIFE CHARGED WITH BIGAMY

Rushville Man Locates Wife Who Eloped With His Former Rival.

IS A COMPLICATED CASE

Couple Will Probably be Arrested and Brought Here For Trial

Enters Daniel Boone Thorpe. His cup of bitterness still runs over, despite the fact that he has backed away from the trough. At times he declares that he is on the verge of a mental collapse, having symptoms of tornado of the brain. It is all on account of Clara—erstwhile wife of his bosom.

Too well do we remember—for we suffered with Boone—the sad marital experience of the namesake of that great, illustrious and sturdy old Kentucky pioneer, who suffered many heart aches in his married life, and how the matter was aired in the Rush circuit court. There Judge Sparks listened to the tales of woe from both husband and wife, and after due deliberation, granted the unhappy pair separation for three years. The able judge believing that time would heal all wounds and that absence makes the heart grow fonder, adopted this novel means of righting matters with the two souls that God had joined together in holy matrimony.

By the decree neither party was allowed to marry, and they were to live apart under penalty of a charge of adultery, for a period of three years, but at the end of that time, without ceremony or any formality whatsoever, they were again legal man and wife.

Mrs. Daniel Boone Thorpe evidently had on her ear muffs when the judge read his finding, for within a fortnight she had shaken the dust of Rushville from her French heels and eloped to Greensburg with one Will Levi of this city (a former rival, and a suitor for the young lady's hand at a watermelon frolic, where Boone won out—hands down—and the couple was married).

Woe was Boone. How his little heart ached with every throb. When he learned the truth, he stood with his face Heavenward, with the old fire of jealousy kindled anew; love stood on one side of him, duty on the other. His very soul burned within him, and he called on high for enlightenment. The noble Boone still loved the woman; loved her "better than his own life"—"the very ground she tread upon"—and all that sort of thing. Justice rattled her scales in his ear on one side and sweet charity was busy on the other line. His wife was before Allah and man guilty of "mormony" (or bigamy.)

Boone could have the law come down upon them and send both of them to the State prison. He would gladly send Levi—his old rival—the man who did his "sparking" without a crumb, but a vision of the face of his former wife, arose before him and all desire for revenge disappeared like the crowd disappears before the Salvation Army lass when she presses forward collecting with the tambourine.

Night after night, day after day, had the woeful Boone dreamed of the time when the three years—an eternity to him—would come and go, and again he would be beside his Clara J. He counted the very minutes on his fingers and wore out three patent calendars. Now,—now,—now all was off. Love's sweet dream was over. (And poor "over" at that—not in paying quantities.)

Days rolled by and Boone became as the Sphinx. He grew "solemnly" and would not have speech with anyone. All that life held dear for him was dead, and the cemetery gates were locked with a time lock, to be opened only by the blast of Gabriel's horn. His ambitions were curbed. He refused to work, and consequently the larder ran low, and even flickered out.

About four weeks ago Boone was taken to the Rush county poor farm—hungry both in soul and body, broken in spirits and finance; a shadow of his former self. There he pined beneath the pines in the front yard until he was instructed to go into the garden, take up the white man's burden and do a few stunts with the man with the hoe.

"Enough," cried Boone, "if I have to work I will go back over the top of the world and get wages for it, if I can't get it in Rushville." He found employment at the junkman's shop, the junkman, who it "easy picking." Handling old iron has hardened his heart and now he is a changed man. He is eating better and not only has his hands at work, but his mind is kept active.

He is now determined that as he has suffered, so shall his wife taste of that same bitterness. In short he is going to have her arrested, together with Levi, on a charge of bigamy.

Yesterday, Boone returned from Columbus, Indiana, where he located the "turtle doves" living on a farm north of that city. It was a clever bit of detective work, his finding them. He has talked to Sheriff King and will swear out a warrant for the couple's arrest when the proper time comes to strike. He says he does not like to keep them in jail all summer waiting for the September term of court to convene.

Ah! see, his heart is still soft in spots. He must "back to the junk heap to harden both his hands and temper his heart. The "boone companion" must face the bar.

NEW THEATRE GOES IN ON MAIN STREET

J. Walter Wilson Will Open New Vaudette in the Commercial Block

The firm of J. Walter Wilson and H. A. Kramer has been dissolved in the management of the Vaudette theatre, and Mr. Wilson has leased the Geraghty room in the Commercial block, on Main street, where he will fit up a modern, cozy little theatre with every convenience. The front will be torn out and a regular theatre lobby installed, opening on the street. The room will be overhauled throughout, with exits both in front and in the rear, and a ventilation of "fresh air" from both ends. An additional operator will be secured and Mr. Wilson will sing the illustrated songs at the piano in front of the house. The new Vaudette will be open to the public in about two weeks.

BARROWS OF THE STRENUOUS SCHOOL

Connersville Mayor is a Frequent Visitor in This City—
May Run For Congress

"Mayor Fred Barrows of Connersville, was a visitor in this city yesterday." This item often appears in these columns. There's a reason. Fred is a pretty busy man the first thing you know. Besides being the mayor of Connersville, where his throne is the lid, he is now cashier of the new State bank there, and is always on the move in some direction. When he went into office there were thirty licensed saloons in the city of Seal Skins and Diamonds, now there remains but twenty-two, and they are struggling to keep their heads above water.

Mr. Barrows often visits Rushville. He has many friends here, especially among the men in politics, by reason of his being county chairman of Fayette county for several years. Then there is a chance that Congressman Watson may make a race for the Governorship. Barrows will then be a candidate for Congress. At least that is what Barrows' friends are planning. And he has not placed himself in the hands of his friends. It's a funny game—this political game. In event Watson announces his candidacy for Governor in the next few days, it is safe to say that within the next few months the nine counties in the Sixth district will offer 57 varieties of candidates for Mr. Watson's toga.

AND TEDDY BEARS PAPA'S BRUNT

Alec McCarty Will Have His Son Apply for His Liquor License

WAR CLOUD HANGING OVER

And Knightstown Saloon Keeper
Sends to Rushville for Offspring for Succor

Alec McCarty, a Knightstown saloon keeper, who formerly lived in Rushville, has been "up against it" for the past few weeks, and the strong arm of the law has been giving him the bear hug. McCarty's prayer for license has been turned down by the Henry county commissioners, and now he has "imported" his son Ted McCarty of this city to make a try for the license.

The New Castle Courier has the following to say of McCarty's troubles: Alec McCarty is just recovering from a severe shock to his nervous system inflicted by Squire Newby, of Kennard, who found him guilty of keeping one of his saloons open on the Fourth of July. Alec whipped the prosecuting witness about over a good bit of territory, taking changes of venue and asking for continuances. After devious tricks and turns the case was finally heard in Newby's court and two fines imposed, one against Alec and another against his barkeeper. The fines and costs amount to more than $100 and makes the Fourth celebration a rather expensive one.

When McCarty's renewal of license was turned down by the board of county commissioners it closed up the celebrated "Saloon of a Thousand Doors," or will close it shortly.

Alec has too much money invested to remain idle for any length of time, and as result Ted, his son, has given notice of his intention of filing an application for a license. If Alec cannot run the joint himself, he thinks it will be mighty good thing to have it in the family, and Teddy will do his best to get the license.

Landen Frost, who had for years voted the Republican ticket at Farmington, stated recently that in the future he was going to be a Democrat. Mr. Frost said, "I'll tell you, boys, that there is too much prosperity in this country, and I am going to vote the Democratic ticket so we can have some poor people. As it is, everyone has plenty of money and we can't get farm hands to do our work." This statement was made before a crowd of harvest hands, who agreed that there was something in Mr. Frost's philosophy.

A CITY BEAUTIFUL

"Dan Fairley, [who] has lived at Louisville, Ky., for several years, and who is here visiting, took a walk over the city this afternoon, and afterwards remarked: 'I always thought Third street in Louisville, was hard to beat for beauty, but I'll tell you, there isn't hardly a street in Rushville that won't favorably compare with it. Even those who live in modest cottages, seem to take a great pride in keeping up the appearance of their lawns and flower beds. It is surely a city beautiful.'"

WILL BE SENT TO PLAINFIELD

TREATED WITH KINDNESS

Young Man Spurns Good Advice
—Parents Should Assist in Enforcing Ordinance

Daily Goodwin, the boy who has been causing the local police so much trouble for several weeks, was placed in jail Monday night and an effort will be made to send the young man to Plainfield.

Young Goodwin has several friends besides his parents who have been endeavoring to cause him to walk in the straight path, but the entreaties of his friends for him to reform have been heard with a deaf ear. Goodwin was recently taken to the country by a friend who tried to reform him. He was treated with every possible kindness, and in return the boy performed every mean trick conceivable on the family with whom he was living.

He insisted in smoking in the barn and damaging the property until his friend was forced to call Marshal Price, who placed the young man in jail. As soon as Judge Sparks returns from New York, the matter will be considered by him, and it is more than likely that Goodwin will be sent to the house of correction.

The case of young Goodwin should be taken as an example by the people of Rushville. It is not the boy's fault that he must be punished. He was allowed to associate with bad characters who have almost ruined the young man's life. Any boy who is allowed to make the city streets his play ground, and who is free to do as he pleases after night, is liable to become a moral degenerate. The curfew ordinance is meant to protect boys and girls from evil, and the police are endeavoring to enforce it, but this is impossible without the aid of parents, who should cause their children by force, if necessary, to be at home after eight o'clock in the evening.

HAY FEVER SEASON IS APPROACHING

Sufferers of Disease Preparing for Big Sneezes While Praying for Frost.

Hay fever time will soon strike Rushville and the annual votaries of the disease will begin to make the best of the incumbrances attending the arrival of the rag weed season. The patient will start in on his annual "cahoo" with the old time vim and everlasting continuity. In reality it is the old time "rag" gag. Already the excursions have begun into the wilds of Michigan and the hotels and semi-taverns of the farthest north are putting sideboards on their register books and additional beds in their halls, out on the porches and upon the roof. But to the "hay fever patient" there is no fun in life for the next few months. With weeping eyes the tired features, they are persisting in dragging out a weary, exasperating, and aimless existence.

GOOD PROGRAM AT CHAUTAUQUA

Barnard Family of Musical
Artists Furnish Pleasing
Program Monday Night

TO APPEAR AGAIN TONIGHT

Alice Dale, Reader of Marked Ability, Will Entertain Chautaquans This Evening

One of the most pleasing musical programs ever presented in this city was given by the Barnard Family Orchestra at the local Chautauqua Monday night. A cloud of dust enveloped the Chautauqua tent during the greater part of the evening for even old men were kicking their feet "keeping time to the music," during each selection which was played. Each member of the orchestra is an artist, and the trap drummer is "brass band," by himself.

George P. Bible also appeared on the program Monday night, and pleased the audience with a short discourse on "Love." Mr. Bible only appeared between acts last night for the audience hungered for music and the Barnard family filled the bill.

The Barnard Family will appear on the program for three consecutive days and will probably be one of the greatest attractions of the Chautauqua this year.

Robert R. Armstrong delivered a strong address this afternoon on "The Measure of a Man." Mr. Armstrong is not a tailor but an orator, and his address dealt with man's mental measure. Alice Dale, a reader with marked ability, who comes highly recommended from other Chautauquas will appear on tonight's program, and George P. Bible will deliver another address on "Fads and Extremes."

NOTES.
Large crowds continue to attend Chautauqua programs although the tent will seat twice as many people as the one in use in former years, it is crowded each evening.

A dance was given on the Chautauqua grounds last night while the Barnard family was playing.

Alice Dale, the reader who will appear on the program tonight, is a southern girl and has many strong recommendations.

Prof. Armstrong addressed the Teachers' Institute this morning.

"Child Study and Discipline" was the subject of County Supt. W. O. Headlee's address before the Teachers' Institute today. Mr. Headlee is a man with experience when it comes to children, and his address was unusually good.

Supt. J. F. Haynes, of Noblesville, made an address before the Teachers' Institute today. Mr. Haynes is one of the promoters of the corn school for boys.

J. L. Shauck, of Arlington led the singing this morning at the Teachers' Institute, and D. O. Alter, of Orange, led the devotionals.

Fassett A. Cotton, State Superintendent of Schools, will be here next Thursday and deliver an address at the Teachers Institute at the Chautauqua grounds. The school Board will make an effort to have Mr. Cotton speak here at the dedication of the Graham school building.

Mr. Guy W. Rubush, violinist, of Indianapolis, will fill the first fifteen minutes of the prelude at the Chautauqua tonight. Mr. Rubush is a violinist of marked ability, and is well known by musicians in this city.

"More paid for labor than ever before and less work done," is the way one farmer bunched up this summer's experience. A Rushville contractor remarked that he got one-third more work done when he paid his men $1.50 a day than he does now, paying $2.00 to $2.25 a day. And this is the experience everywhere.

State Superintendent Fassett A. Cotton is after Terre Haute school officials for padding the enumeration. The returns showed a school population of 17,989, while in 1906 their children numbered only 14,008. This would be a remarkable increase and did not look right on its face. A new enumeration was taken under the direction of the State Superintendent and this count shows that Terre Haute has an actual school population of 13,045, a difference of nearly five thousand. Being caught and exposed in an apparent attempt to deceive and defraud must be humiliating to the people of Terre Haute. It always pays to be honest.

The new Atlantic ocean liner "Lusitania," of the Cunard Steamship Company, in her trial run, maintained a speed of 25 1/2 knots an hour, which makes this the fastest boat on the Atlantic ocean, and it is predicted that she will bring the transatlantic record for the first time below five days by just how much remains to be seen. The Lusitania is 790 feet long, 88 feet wide and 100 feet high from keel to top of pilot house. The four funnels or smoke stacks are each 24 feet in diameter and 155 feet high, or within 35 feet as high as the smokestack of the I. & O. power house in this city. The engines are of 80,000 horse power, and steam is supplied by 25 boilers, carrying 192 furnaces, and the coal consumption is 45 tons per hour or 1100 tons per day. The ship carries 2200 passengers and a crew of 800-3000 people all together. This English ship was built with government aid, and is so designed that she can be quickly converted into a fast cruiser capable of overtaking any merchant or warship afloat. The latest foreign dispatches state that England is building much more powerful and larger warships than the famous "Dreadnaught." Where will this battleship development lead to, or where will it end?

A SOP TO BRYANITES

Kern's Statement Expected to Allay Fears of the "Faithful."

Indianapolis, Ind., August 13.—John W. Kern's recent statement regarding the situation in Indiana as affecting Bryan's hold upon the affections of the Democrats in this state was with the apparent design to allay the misgivings of thousands of radical Bryanites who had heard a report that many of the Democratic editors and party leaders were of the opinion that Bryan is not available as a candidate for a third nomination. The radical Bryan men say that the anti-Bryan sentiment is confined almost wholly to the element in the party that was opposed to him from the start because of his free-silver views. They declare that this element had an inning three years ago that was very disastrous to the party when it nominated Judge Parker and that history will repeat itself if Bryan is not given another chance. It would not be surprising if the statement of Mr. Kern should cause a crystallization of Bryan sentiment within a very short time. The Bryan men will not take any chances of being dumped in Indiana, although Mr. Kern has declared repeatedly that no Democrat could carry a precinct in the state against the "peerless one." It is very probable that the leadership of the party will fall into the hands of Mr. Kern and S. M. Ralston of Lebanon, who came to his defense at French Lick and who is one of the original Bryan men of the state. Mr. Kern is being mentioned as a probable nominee for vice president. He will not make a race for the place, but it is not unlikely that the Indiana delegation will present his name. As for Mr. Ralston, it is said that since the French Lick meeting he has reconsidered his determination not to become a candidate for the nomination for governor. He gave out a prepared statement before the meeting of the editors that he would not seek the nomination for governor. It has developed since then, however, that he expects the nomination to seek him, and he is not going to attempt to dodge it.

The first decision relative to the "full crew" law enacted by the last legislature at the request of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen was rendered Monday by Acting Judge William Irvin of the criminal court, who held it to be constitutional. The case will be taken to the supreme court as soon as possible, where the constitutionality of the law may be definitely determined. The law provides that railroads must have six men on all trains of over fifty cars and five men on all other trains. The companies have notified the railroad commission that they would obey the law on trains running within the boundaries of the state, but that on trains running across the state they would not, as the state has nothing to do with them. The railroad companies insisted that the law is in violation of interstate commerce regulations and consequently unconstitutional. They declared that in passing it the legislature attempted to interfere with interstate commerce, but Judge Irvin held to the contrary. Judge Irvin held that the state was not attempting to interfere with interstate commerce when it enacted a law to compel railroads to place an extra man on all of their trains. He insisted that interstate commerce has not been affected by the new law.

According to figures given out by Miss Mary Stubbs, state statistician, 65,518 acres of potatoes were planted in this state this year, as against 64,536 acres last year. St. Joseph county had 3,078 acres, the largest potato acreage of any county, while Allen county came next, with 2,674 acres. Scott county had only thirty-three acres, which was the smallest acreage of any county. In tomatoes, however, Scott county took the lead with 2,265 acres. Tipton county came next with 2,056 acres. Benton, Brown, Fayette, Switzerland, Union and White counties reported no tomatoes. The total tomato acreage of the state this year was 21,822 acres, as against 19,191 last year.

Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks, wife of the vice president, and her family have arrived in Manchester, Mass., and will stay there the remainder of the summer. Mrs. Fairbanks has been in poor health for some time, but it is said that she is improving. The vice president is resting at his home here.

Militia Not Needed. Tell City, Ind., Aug. 13.—The two companies of state militia which have been guarding this quiet city from the "violence" of strikers have returned to their homes. The band played and a crowd of people cheered as the troops departed. Sheriff Whitmer says he has forty deputies sworn in to take charge of affairs.

Associated Press Operators Join Forces of Striking Telegraphers.

FEW ONLY REMAIN LOYAL

A Sufficient Force Remained at the Keys to Get Through a Partial News Service.

Press Operators Made Demands That Could Not Have Been Met in the Time Given.

New York, Aug. 13.—The strike of telegraphers which originated last Friday at Los Angeles, where it was directed against the Western Union company, spread eastward and last evening reached New York city, where three spontaneous "walk-outs" followed in rapid succession. These were directed against the Western Union, the Postal Telegraph company and the Associated Press. With the stopping of work by a majority of union operators here, a situation unparalleled was followed, the telegraph business, though by no means being tied up, being seriously handicapped.

The strike against the Associated Press began at 8:30 o'clock (Eastern time) last night. It was distinct from the other strikes, as the Associated Press controls its own leased wires and the operators are in the direct employ of the news organization. Though no demands had been made recently by the men, the strike had been foreshadowed.

General Manager Stone received the first intimation early Sunday night that the telegraphic force of the association was likely to formulate demands. These took form later that night and were put into the form of a petition which reached Mr. Stone Monday morning. The petition was signed by many of the telegraph operators of the Associated Press throughout the country, and in brief requested a reduction in the hours of service and an increase of wages.

During the afternoon Mr. Stone formulated his reply to the operators. Thus the situation stood at 6 p. m. last night when the day force went off duty and the night force came on in all the great news centers of the country. The operators were in an evident state of unrest and the transmission of news was frequently interrupted by messages from point to point canvassing the attitude of the men. Secretary Russell of the Commercial Telegraphers union advised the operators to secure a definite date for the consideration of their demands. In some localities a disposition was shown to remain until 7:30 Thursday night, in order that Mr. Stone might have reasonable opportunity to communicate with the directors of the Associated Press. On the other hand the operators at several Southern points indicated an intention not to wait beyond 7:30 o'clock last night. This sentiment found general acceptance, and at 7:30 (Chicago time, or 8:30 p. m., New York time) there was a general suspension of the service throughout the country. The suspension was not complete, as sufficient force remained loyal to send a partial news service in all directions. The same conditions prevailed at all the offices except those in New England, which were not affected.

PRESS OPERATORS

Hear From Melville E. Stone, Manager of Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 13.—Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press, replied to the requests of the telegraphers employed by the Associated Press. These requests were:

within the time named. The board consists of fifteen members scattered throughout the entire country. At the same time, acting under authority heretofore granted me by the board of directors, I shall be very glad at any time to meet a committee of our own operators and confer with them respecting hours of service and compensation with a view to making some recommendation to the next meeting of the board of directors, which shall meet any fair or just expectations of those in our operating service.

Even were I free to act, I think you must agree with me that a question of this magnitude should not be pressed to a conclusion within the limits of a few hours and without any opportunity for consultation between myself and representatives of our operating force. MELVILLE E. STONE.

Against Better Counsel. Chicago, Aug. 13.—The operators in the office in this city and on the Southern and Western circuits of the Associated Press leased wire system stopped work last night at 7:30 o'clock. The strike was made against the wishes and advice of Grand Secretary Russell of the Telegraphers' union, who tried to keep the men at work for another twenty-four hours, or until satisfactory arrangements could be made for a conference between Melville E. Stone, the general manager of the Associated Press, and a committee of the operators.

Situation in Indiana. Indianapolis, Aug. 13.—At 7:30 o'clock last night the entire force of the Associated Press operators here quit their posts with the exception of the chief operator, who kept one wire going. At Fort Wayne two operators left their keys; at Marion, two; Terre Haute, two; Lafayette, two, and at Muncie one.

HARRIMAN AND KAHN May Yet Be Compelled to Answer Uncle Sam's Queries.

New York, Aug. 13.—United States District Attorney Stimson has filed in the United States circuit court in this city a petition that E. H. Harriman and Otto H. Kahn, the latter of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., be summoned into court to show cause why they should not answer certain questions relating to the control of the Chicago & Alton railroad. These questions were asked during the interstate commerce commission's investigation of the Chicago & Alton several months ago. Mr. Stimson acted for Attorney General Bonaparte in filing the petition.

The questions to which the government demands answers from Mr. Harriman and Mr. Kahn refer to the purchase of the controlling interest in the Chicago & Alton and the Illinois Central by the Union Pacific.

MURDEROUS ROBBERS Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Slain Near Noblesville and House Ransacked.

Noblesville, Ind., Aug. 13.—George W. Hudson and his wife, aged about fifty-five years, living on a fourteen-acre tract of land three miles southeast of this city, were found dead at their home yesterday. The affair is shrouded in mystery, and it is presumed that they were murdered by unknown persons, whose object was robbery. The dead bodies were discovered by their only child, a daughter, Alta, nineteen years old, who returned home from a week's visit with relatives and friends at Fortville. She was accompanied from Fortville by her uncle, Andrew Brown, brother of Mrs. Hudson. When they reached the Hudson home they made a horrifying discovery. Lying on the bed in an upstairs room, with a bullet through the temple, was Mrs. Hudson. Her arms were folded, and everything indicated that she had been shot while asleep. Mrs. Hudson's face was powder burned, and there were powder stains on the pillow. Near the door, in an adjoining room, with his feet under the bed, lay Mr. Hudson, with a bullet hole in his left chest, near the heart. Both bodies were cold, indicating that they had been dead for several hours. There were also powder burns on the undergarments of Mr. Hudson.

An old-fashioned revolver was lying on the bed beside Mrs. Hudson. It contained one shell that had not been exploded and four empty shells. The house was ransacked. Every bed was turned up. Chairs were thrown about, and other pieces of furniture were overturned. The only motive to be assigned for the murder is robbery. Mr. Hudson sold his little farm some time ago, and it is believed the robbers thought he had the money concealed in the house. There is not the slightest clue to the identity of the murderer or murderers.

DEDICATORY CEREMONIES

The Formal Dedication of Magnificent New Pythian Grand Lodge Building Attracts Many.

The Uniformed Rank of the Order Gathers in Tented City at Riverside Park.

Indianapolis, Aug. 13.—This city is a-flutter this week with streamers bearing the Pythian colors, blue, yellow and red, and a warm reception is being accorded the hosts of that order gathered here for the ceremonies incident to the dedication of the new Pythian grand lodge building tomorrow and for the encampment of the Uniform Rank of the order. Practically all of the sixty-eight companies of the Indiana brigade are in camp at Riverside park today, and the members of the 500 subordinate lodges in the state are coming in on every train. It is believed that practically all of these subordinate lodges will be well represented in the city this evening, as the parade and other principal features attendant upon the dedication of the grand lodge building take place Wednesday.

The camp of the Indiana brigade was formally turned over to Brigadier General Wilson Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock and at 8 o'clock last evening there was a school of instruction at brigade headquarters for all of the staff and line officers. From 7 until 11 o'clock there was "open house" at the Knights of Pythias building, Massachusetts avenue and Pennsylvania street, with a band concert in grand lodge hall, on the top floor.

Resolutions in Memory of T. S. Johnson

Resolutions in memory of T. S. Johnson. We, the undersigned committee met and approved the following resolutions:

Whereas, in harmony with the principles of our being as mortals the alarm has again been attended to, and death has called one of our well beloved brothers from our sacred circles; and

Whereas, in the death of our brother, Thomas Johnson, we, the members of Beech Grove Lodge No. 399 I. O. O. F. again recognize the fact that all earthly ties are but temporary and desiring in this somewhat formal manner to express our appreciation of his bereft widow and his relatives our fraternal sympathy, do adopt these resolutions: Resolved, That in our association with out departed brother we have found him kind, companionable, faithful and true to his obligations as an Oddfellow.

That, while we dare not question the providence of God nor attempt to foretell the mysteriousness of life and death, yet it is true now as before the flood that of two in a field, or two grinding at a mill, one shall be taken and the other left; our brother in the vigor and strength of manhood is taken and we bow in humble submission to this inscrutable providence of Him who doeth all things well.

That as Odd fellows we are glad to pay this brief and imperfect tribute to his personal integrity, to his faithfulness as an honored citizen of our community, and to the private virtues of our departed friend and brother.

He has left an honorable record, the character for an honest upright man, and the memory of private and domestic virtues which will keep his memory green in the hearts of his brethren, of his personal friends and above all his bereaved and loving companion.

That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the records of this lodge and a copy be sent to the bereaved widow and that the charter be decked in mourning for a period of sixty days.

Resolutions of Respect.

The Pastors Aid Society of the Main Street Christian church adopted the following resolutions on the death of Mrs. M. W. McCann:

Whereas, the angel of death has entered our society by taking from us our beloved president and esteemed friend,

Resolved, That we the entire membership of this society, do most sincerely extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved husband, parents and all relatives of the deceased, and assure them that while they mourn the loss of a dear one in their home, our society and entire church mourns with them the loss of a faithful friend and co-worker, and may He who doeth all things well watch over protect and comfort and sustain them in the coming days.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the departed and to our city papers for publication and the same be spread upon our minutes.

IMMUNITY BATH

Had Been Given the Alton, According to This Report.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Immunity has been granted to the Chicago & Alton railroad for its part in connection with the illegal rebates for which the Standard Oil company of Indiana recently was fined $29,240,000 by Judge Landis at Chicago. It appears that former Attorney General Moody, now a justice of the supreme court of the United States, under whose direction the Standard Oil cases recently reaching climax at Chicago were instituted, used the Chicago & Alton to gain the information upon which the rebates were made.

Strike of the Operators Has Now Extended to New York and Many Eastern Cities.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—The strike of the telegraph operators spread rapidly Monday, the men walking out in many cities in the East and West. The chief strike of the day was in New York, where the operators of both the Western Union and Postal companies left their keys. Other strikes during the day were as follows:

Western Union—Montgomery, Ala.; Savannah, Augusta, Ga.; Des Moines, Ia.; Chattanooga, Cleveland, Buffalo, Baltimore, Toledo, Columbia, S. C.; Pittsburg, Washington, D. C.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Charlotte, S. C.; Albany, Troy, Schenectady, N. Y.; Detroit.

Postal—Columbus, O.; Des Moines, Denver, Los Angeles, Salt Lake City, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Baltimore, Columbia, S. C., Washington, D. C.; Schenectady, Troy.

The strike in this city did not spread beyond the limits it had attained Sunday. The union scale as favored by the operators was presented to a number of brokers during the day. The only strike in this direction was that of two men employed by A. H. Nohe. They struck because they were asked to handle Western Union market quotations. During the day two of the largest commission houses in the city signed the scale presented by the operators and also issued a call for a meeting of representatives of other commission houses to discuss measures of warding off the strike.

Arbitration advocates in the shape of Secretary Easley of the National Civic Federation and Labor Commissioner Neill arrived in the city, but their mission was made difficult before they arrived by the statements of Superintendent Cook of the Western Union and Capen of the Postal company to the effect that they would arbitrate nothing. Secretary Wesley Russell of the telegraphers expressed himself in a similar manner. Both companies announced that they will treat with their men as individuals. Secretary Russell said that the operators would not agree to arbitrate for the reason that the fight was already won.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, arrived in the city, but declared that the situation had not materially changed since his arrival. Both of the companies claimed today to be in better shape than at any time since the commencement of the strike.

Extending Into Canada.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—Between twenty-five and thirty operators in the Great Northwestern Telegraph company of office have struck in sympathy with the operators in the United States.

MARKETS AFFECTED

Telegraphers' Strike Reflected in Chicago Grain Pit.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—The wheat market was weak all day Monday and a decline of nearly a cent a bushel was recorded on the opening transaction. Throughout the entire session the market was subjected to free selling by longs, and the principal demand came from shorts. The weakening influences at the opening were lower prices for wheat at Liverpool, and on the Minneapolis curb, and extremely favorable weather for the new crop. The announcement of the spread of the telegraphers' strike to New York was the signal for a fresh raid on the market during the latter part of the day. This increased selling caused a decline of more than another cent in a few minutes, and brought the net loss for the day to more than 3 cents in the September delivery. Other options declined almost as severely. The market closed weak and close to the lowest point. The amount on passage increased 760,000 bushels. Clearances and primary receipts were not available because of the strike. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 640 cars, against 553 cars last week, and 723 cars one year ago.

The corn market displayed surprising steadiness in view of the demoralized condition of the wheat market. Some damage reports were received from Kansas, where the crop is said to be burning up on account of the excessive heat. These advices, together with the Illinois state crop report, which showed a falling off of seven points in the condition of the crop during July, were the reasons for the comparative firmness manifested in the pit. Light stocks and a continued small movement were additional bullish influences. The close was steady. Oats were weak on liberal selling by local longs. The telegraph strike and favorable weather for harvesting were the chief depressing factors. The market received its principal support from the shorts. The close was weak.

The Boiler Let Go.

Omaha, Aug. 13.—The east end of the ten-story elevator of Merriam & Hunsbaker, at Sixteenth and Nicholas streets, was blown out by the explosion of a boiler in the basement of the building late yesterday afternoon. The elevator was full of grain, which will be a total loss. No person was on the wrecked portion of the building when the explosion occurred, and no one was injured. The damage will be heavy.

"All these letters from Washington consulting you on politics and finance—they won't interest the world."

"My secretary picked them out," explained Ryder. "Your artistic sense will tell you what to use."

"Does your son still love this girl? I mean the one you object to," inquired Shirley as she went on sorting the papers.

"Oh, no, he does not care for her any more," answered Ryder hastily.

"Yes, he does. He still loves her," said Shirley positively.

"How do you know?" asked Ryder, amazed.

"From the way you say he doesn't," retorted Shirley.

Ryder gave his caller a look in which admiration was mingled with astonishment.

"You are right again," he said. "The idiot does love the girl."

"Bless his heart!" said Shirley to herself. "Aloud she said: 'I hope they'll both outwit you.'"

Ryder laughed in spite of himself. This young woman certainly interested him more than any other he had ever known.

"I don't think I ever met any one in my life quite like you," he said.

"What's the objection to the girl?" demanded Shirley.

"Every objection. I don't want her in my family."

"Anything against her character?"

To better conceal the keen interest she took in the personal turn the conversation had taken, Shirley pretended to be more busy than ever with the papers.

"Yes—that is, no—not that I know of," replied Ryder. "But because a woman has a good character, that doesn't necessarily make her a desirable match, does it?"

"It's a point in her favor, isn't it?"

"Yes, but"—He hesitated as if uncertain what to say.

"You know men well, don't you, Mr. Ryder?"

"I've met enough to know them pretty well," he replied.

"Why don't you study women for a change?" she asked. "That would enable you to understand a great many things that I don't think are quite clear to you now."

Ryder laughed good humoredly. It was decidedly a novel sensation to have some one lecturing him.

"I'm studying you," he said, "but I don't seem to make much headway. A woman like you whose mind isn't spoiled by the amusement habit has great possibilities—great possibilities. Do you know you're the first woman I ever took into my confidence—I mean at sight?"

Again he fixed her with that keen glance which in his business life had taught him how to read men.

He continued: "I'm acting on sentiment—something I rarely do, but I can't help it. I like you, upon my soul I do, and I'm going to introduce you to my wife—my son."

He took the telephone from his desk as if he were going to use it.

"What a commander in chief you would have made—how natural it is for you to command!" exclaimed Shirley in a burst of admiration that was half real, half mocking. "I suppose you always tell people what they are to do and how they are to do it. You are a born general. You know I've often thought that Napoleon and Caesar and Alexander must have been great domestic leaders as well as imperial rulers. I'm sure of it now."

Ryder listened to her in amazement. He was not quite sure if she were making fun of him or not.

"Well, of all"—he began; then interrupting himself he said amiably, "Won't you do me the honor to meet my family?"

Shirley smiled sweetly and bowed.

"Thank you, Mr. Ryder, I will."

She rose from her seat and leaned over the manuscripts to conceal the satisfaction this promise of an introduction to the family circle gave her. She was quick to see that it meant more visits to the house and other and perhaps better opportunities to find the objects of her search. Ryder lifted the receiver of his telephone and talked to his secretary in another room, while Shirley, who was still standing, continued examining the papers and letters.

"Is that you, Bagley? What's that? General Dodge? Get rid of him. I can't see him today. Tell him to come tomorrow. What's that? My son wants to see me? Tell him to come to the phone."

At that instant Shirley gave a little cry, which in vain she tried to suppress. Ryder looked up.

"What's the matter?" he demanded, startled.

"Nothing, nothing!" she replied in a hoarse whisper. "I pricked myself with a pin. Don't mind me."

She had just come across her father's missing letters, which had got mixed up, evidently without Ryder's knowledge, in the mass of papers he had handed her. Prepared as she was to find the letters somewhere in the house, she never dreamed that fate would put them so easily and so quickly into her hands; the suddenness of their appearance and the sight of her father's familiar signature affected her almost like a shock. Now she had them, she must not let them go again; yet how could she keep them unobserved? Could she conceal them? Would he miss them? She tried to slip them in her bosom while Ryder was busy at the phone, but he suddenly glanced in her direction and caught her eye. She still held the letters in her hand, which shook from nervousness, but he noticed nothing and went on speaking through the phone:

"Hello, Jefferson, boy! You want to see me. Can you wait till I'm through? I've got a lady here. Going away? Nonsense! Determined, eh? Well, I can't keep you here if you've made up your mind. Want to say goodbye, your mind. I'll be right back and I'll see you."

Shirley was all unstrung, trying to overcome the emotion which her discovery had caused her, and in a strangely altered voice, the result of the nervous strain she was under, she said:

"You want me to come here?"

She looked up from the letters she was reading across to Ryder, who was standing watching her on the other side of the desk. He caught her glance and, leaning over to take some manuscript, he said:

"Yes, I don't want these papers to get lost."

His eye suddenly rested on the letters she was holding. He stopped short, and reaching forward he tried to snatch them from her.

"What have you got there?" he exclaimed.

He took the letters, and she made no resistance. It would be folly to force the issue now, she thought. Another opportunity would present itself. Ryder locked the letters up very carefully in the drawer on the left-hand side of his desk, muttering to himself rather than speaking to Shirley:

"How on earth did they get among my other papers?"

"From Judge Rossmore, were they not?" said Shirley boldly.

"How did you know it was Judge Rossmore?" demanded Ryder suspiciously. "I didn't know that his name had been mentioned."

"I saw his signature," she said simply. Then she added, "He's the father of the girl you don't like, isn't he?"

"Yes, he's the"—

A cloud came over the financier's face. His eyes darkened, his jaws snapped, and he clinched his fist.

"How you must hate him!" said Shirley, who observed the change.

"Not at all," replied Ryder, recovering his self possession and suavity of manner. "I disagree with his politics and his methods, but—I know very little about him except that he is about to be removed from office."

"About to be?" echoed Shirley. "So his fate is decided even before he is tried?" The girl laughed bitterly.

"Yes," she went on, "some of the newspapers are beginning to think he is innocent of the things of which he is accused."

"Do they?" said Ryder indifferently.

"Yes," she persisted, "most people are on his side."

She planted her elbows on the desk in front of her, and looking him squarely in the face she asked him point blank:

"Whose side are you on—really and truly?"

Ryder winced. What right had this woman, a stranger both to Judge Rossmore and himself, to come here and catechise him? He restrained his impatience with difficulty as he replied:

"Whose side am I on? Oh, I don't know that I am on any side. I don't know that I give it much thought. I—"

"Do you think this man deserves to be punished?" she demanded.

She had resumed her seat at the desk and partly regained her self possession.

"Why do you ask? What is your interest in this matter?"

"I don't know," she replied evasively. "His case interests me, that's all. It's rather romantic. Your son loves this man's daughter. He is in disgrace—many seem to think unjustly." Her voice trembled with emotion as she continued: "I have heard from one source or another—you know I am acquainted with a number of newspaper men—I have heard that life no longer has any interest for him, that he is not only disgraced but beggared, that he is pining away slowly, dying of a broken heart, that his wife and daughter are in despair. Tell me, do you think he deserves such a fate?"

TWO WERE SLAIN

Troops Compelled to Fire Into Crowd at Belfast.

Belfast, Aug. 13.—Serious and fatal disorders occurred here again last evening. The troops fired into a crowd and a woman and man were shot dead, and a number of others seriously wounded. The trouble came when a mob of men and women attacked a police inspector. Soldiers were at once summoned, but the maddened mob refused to disperse. Bayonet and baton charges failed to rout the frenzied rioters and ultimately the order to fire was given.

The number wounded from the rifle fire and the bayonet charges and otherwise injured is very great and the hospitals are overcrowded.

Rioting continued until nearly midnight. The rioters stretched chains across the streets to impede the movement of troops, who charged the mob no less than forty times. Six volleys were fired into the mob, and official reports state that three were killed, six seriously and hundreds slightly wounded.

BASE BALL

[Contributed.]

Old time rivals met again Sunday when Milroy played ball at Moscow, with the famous pitcher Halterman in the box for the latter. From the very start the "little wonder" was batted to the tall timbers, Jones making a two sacker on the first ball thrown. The game was well played on both sides and very quiet considering the rivalry. Halterman was forced to retire in the sixth and was replaced by Bennett, who pitched steady ball the remainder of the game.

Batteries—Milroy, Richey and Spacey; Moscow, Halterman, Bennett and Honey. Earned runs, Milroy 3; Moscow, 0; hits, Milroy, singles 3; two-base hits, 5; Moscow, singles 3; struck out by Richey 13, by Halterman, 5, by Bennett 4; features, a double steal by Richey and Jones, and Jones at bat 5 times, making 5 hits, 3 being two-base hits. Score, Milroy, 5; Moscow 3.

BINGHAMTON MAN IN LUCK

"Jones of Binghamton" was in town last night, not he who "pays the freight," but John C. Jones, as he registered at the Scanlan House.

For a few hours Jones was sad and despondent, and was not afraid to tell his troubles. Later in the day he was the happiest stranger within our gates, when he came up to the clerk of the Scanlan House and whispered, "I found 'em; got 'em down at Hargrove & Mullin's. Now I can eat a good dinner and look forward to smoking a Wadsworth Bros. 'Chico' afterwards. Hargrove & Mullin says they have not had the 'Chico' in stock very long, but they are already making a lot of friends.

"Strange how homesick it makes a man to lean over a cigar case and not see a brand that he ever heard of before. That was the way I felt all day, but when I went into Hargrove & Mullin's and saw my old friend, the Wadsworth Bros. 'Chicos,' I knew there was a good smoke coming to yours truly. It was a relief, but there is more to come."
